Computer competency requirement

Beginning with the Fall 2013 semester, NPC is implementing a program to improve student learning in Internet-based classes. Prior to enrollment in Internet sections (POS 221 & 222 are exempt) students must either demonstrate or develop basic computer skills necessary for online learning.

Students who feel proficient and confident about their abilities can demonstrate this by completing an Opt-Out test. Those who have trouble successfully completing the test, or want to brush up their skills, must enroll in Skills for Online Learning – ICT 095, a half-credit, tuition-free course consisting of four hours of face-to-face contact and four hours of on-line work. If a student is not able to take ICT 095, a self-paced learning website will be available to study the required skills and retake the Opt-Out test.

The Opt-Out test is available online now. Multiple sections of ICT 095 will be scheduled in July and August. More information can be found at: eresource.npc.edu/distance/ICT/Requirement/
