Get on your A+ game this spring

A+ training and certification is what employers look for when hiring a computer technician. Now individuals wanting to pursue careers in this rapidly growing field can find the courses they need at NPC's Show Low and Springerville/Eagar locations this spring.

The first two classes – Computer Applications and Information Technology (CIS 105) and Managing and Maintaining Your PC I (A+) (CIS 141) will be offered. Each A+ class has a $200 course fee. "We've added the $178 CompTIA exam cost as part of the course fee. This adds value in that a student receiving a federal Pell grant could have the exam cost covered, in addition to tuition," added CIS instructor Doug Seely.

Pharmacy Tech training in Snowflake

Training for high-paying certified pharmacy technician careers will be offered this spring at the NPC campus in Snowflake/Taylor.

The six-credit-hour intensive course prepares students for entry-level positions in retail and hospital settings and the mandatory national certification examinations. Certified pharmacy technicians can have no prior felony convictions or record of drug or substance abuse. Students must be 18 or older, have a GED or high school diploma, and have current health care provider CPR and First Aid certification (EMT 104). The Pharmacy Technician Training (reference PHT 101-43175) class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 to 8:59 p.m., Jan. 15 through May 16, in the Student Center, room 131.
